

eQube International Inc. Receives Texas Lottery License

RENO, NEVADA—May 27, 2008

eQube International Inc. (“eQube”) is pleased to announce that the company has received its License to Manufacture Bingo Supplies, Devices, and Equipment from the Texas Lottery Commission, which permits eQube to commence sales of its products in the State. Securing the Texas license allows eQube to market its product suite to potential customers in Texas and compete with other suppliers of electronic bingo products in the State such as GameTech International Inc. and FortuNet Inc.

“Our ability to successfully obtain our Texas License is another step in our strategy to market our innovative and new product suite to the largest bingo market in the United States” said Gary Gardner, President and CEO of eQube. “We can now market our products to distributors and provide a choice for bingo hall operators with our cutting edge software and hardware”.

ABOUT eQUBE

eQube is a provider of innovative solutions for the bingo marketplace through its central reporting and control software (“CenTrax”), its point of sale software (“eVent”) and through its fixed base (“Gecko”) and handheld units (“Lil’ Gecko”) which allow the bingo player to have an enjoyable and interactive experience while playing our electronic bingo and other content.

eQube is a wholly owned subsidiary of eQube Technology and Software Inc., which has been operating in Canada since 1999 and its software and hardware products are installed in 77 bingo halls in British Columbia, Alberta and Ontario, all of which utilize the eQube product suite.
